Fatal Accident At Factory

John Kaesh, age about 50 years, an employee of Canadian Sugar Factories for many years, was instantly killed Tuesday morning as he was shovelling sugar in the factories bulk storage bins here.

Kaesh, of Hungarian descent, and another workman were in the bins chipping down sugar from the walls of the bins and shovelling it back. A large overhang broke loose and came down throwing Kaesh against the wall. It is believed he died instantly from a head injury when the weight of the sugar forced him against the wall.

Kaesh is well known in this district, having been a resident here for many years. A wife and two children are believed to survive in the old country.

Dubious Voices

Praising Peace

by Joseph Lister Rutledge

There is always a suggestion of arrogance in the attitude of the so-called intellectuals and men of good will who cling to the skirts of communism. They assume that they, more than others have the welfare of the world at heart; that they can better understand its problems and can meet these problems without the intrusion of the selfish interests and personal prejudices that govern the rest of mankind. They ask us also to assume that because they are a very limited minority, and because they lean toward a cause that most people believe hideously wrong, they have a peculiar righteousness.

We would not deny the right of any minority to express itself. But

Work On Sidewalks Has Started

In speaking with Town Officials this week we are informed that the details of the new sidewalk on the west side of Broadway have been worked out and work will commence within a week or two. It will be a bit inconvenient for the business men and citizens but with patience we will be walking dry-shod on a new walkway.

McNeely Brothers are in town putting in several sewer connections and some water lines. Also working in the town is a carry all (5 yard scraper) busy in the west side of town cutting down boulevards and building up roads.

General improvements about the town are showing up and if we have patience and show co-operation our town will soon be on an equal with any town its size.

St John Ambul. ance At Stampede

In the true spirit of willingness to serve in an emergency, the local centre of the St. John Ambulance Association in co-operation with the Sugar Factory provided an organized First Aid Post during the Raymond Stampede on July 1st and 2nd.

In all, eighteen cases of injuries varying from minor scratches to more serious bruises, sprains and probable fractures sustained by the Rodeo performers, were treated by the First Aid team, consisting of John Housley, Captain; Arthur Atwood, Assistant Captain; Glen Adamson, Varold Rolison, and Gail Atwood. John Landysheff, local representative of the St. John Ambulance Association was also with the team.

The post was located at the no gate of the Stampede grounds arena in a shed adopted for the purpose and marked on the outside with a flag bearing the St. John Ambulance Emblem.

Once more Atwood's stretcher in the hands of the inventor himself, rendered invaluable service in quick picking up the injured and removing them from the Arena to this point.

It may be regretted that thus far Arthur Atwood of Raymond, the inventor of the stretcher, has been unable to commercialize his exceedingly useful and versatile stretcher.

Public recognition of the services rendered by the St. John Ambulance Association was given through the public address system at the end of each day by those responsible for the Stampede.

M Men and Gleaner Party

The M Men and Gleaners of the 4 Raymond Wards were entertained regally last week at the Stake House when they enjoyed an afternoon and evening of games, program, lunch, and dancing. The party was held on the spacious and beautiful lawns of the Stake House and the program was heard on a public address system set up by Mose Fromm. The afternoon started off with games consisting of softball, volleyball, group relay games and swimming, very ably handled by Leonard Watson, and kept the crowd active and laughing all the time.

The program consisted of vocal and musical numbers as follows, these are not in the order of appearance: Piano duet, Shirley Allen, Carolyn Taylor; A reading, "Old Mother Hubbard" by Zetella Taylor; Vocal solo, Kathleen Holmes, Reading.

Genevieve Erickson, Vocal solo, Geraldine Court, Reading, Virginia Rolf.

Local Happenings

Dr. and Mrs. Asper and two daughters were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Stone, for two days during their visit to our city.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Watson and daughter are leaving Friday of this week for an extended motor trip through central Alberta, British Columbia and eastern United States.

On these hot sultry days the most popular spot in town is the Swimming Pool which if you cared to see, is overflowing with young people. The youngsters really have a gay time in their cooling-off activities.

Mrs. Clara Rolison has returned from a weeks visit at Taber.

L. L. Pack is a Raymond visitor for a few days.

Friday night club was held last week at the home of Mrs. Marion Tolles-trup. Marguerite Vance gave the book review "In The Shade of Our Family Tree." Lunch was served by the hostess.

The Child Psychology Club met Wednesday at the home of Ada Stone with Mrs. Zetella Woolley as assistant hostess. Nonavie Jones gave the lesson on "Does Punishment Fit The Crime". Lunch was served by the hostesses.

son; Piano solo, Dorothy Mardock of Lethbridge. A fashion show was put on by Wilma Sorenson and featured the four Queens of the Raymond wards. After this the fashion show was given and all the latest in the fashion world were modelled by young men, and almost prostrated the crowd. Also in the show were a group of Gollywogs (you guess). A vocal duet was rendered by Edna Leavitt of Taber and Helen Piegrass of Raymond.

Earl Zemp gathered the group together and invited them to partake of a delicious lunch served by the ladies of the first ward headed by Lucille Evans. Ruth Ackroyd acted as Mistress of Ceremonies for the program.

In the evening a dance was held on the Open Air Pavilion at the Second Ward. A most enjoyable time is reported by all who attended.

It Pays To Read The Ads

It pays to read the ads. That's right. You may win two free theatre tickets if your name appears in one of the ads on the Buy at Home Page.

Each week that this page runs the name of a Raymond or district subscriber will appear in one of the ads. Simply locate your name, clip the ad in which your name appears and mail or present it at the Recorder office and you will receive ABSOLUTELY FREE two tickets to the Capitol Theatre, Raymond, with the compliments of the advertiser whose advertisement your name appeared. Simple isn't it. And it pays too.

The page is also a ready reference for you and will acquaint you with the businesses of Raymond and what they have to offer. They are all public spirited citizens and have joined together in this project of urging you to buy at home. Buying at home supports home industry and keeps our money here to help our community prosper and grow. Watch this page carefully in case your name appears and in watching for your name acquaint yourself with your local merchants who are here to serve you and deserves your patronage.

Legion Hall Now In Use

All the Legionnaires are jubilant now of the fact the local war veteran's dream of having a Hall of their own, came true. For all practical purposes the Building is open now for services to meet the Veteran's needs. However it should not be overlooked that a considerable interior work is still to be done before the building may be declared as fully completed.

It is estimated that the minimum amount of cash that is still required for this work amounts to $2,000. Appreciating the public support of the past, the Legion appeals to its supporters and friends for further generous contributions.

The Legionnaires themselves are urged to continue to report for work at the Legion Hall especially on Saturdays.

This opportunity is taken to acknowledge with thanks the recent contributions as follows:

R. Cooper	4.00
Mrs. A. Lund	10.00
Henry Jensen	10.00
Andy Lund	20.00
Total	44.00
Previously acknowledged	1,794.30
Grand Total	1,838.30
Returns from special event	185.00
Objective	4,000.00

It is the intention of the Legion to make the Memorial Hall available on some suitable contributory basis to the other service organizations of the Community should they so desire. The Ladies Auxiliary of the Legion, will no doubt, be glad to render any catering service that may be required by the parties using the hall.

All Legionnaires are requested to take notice of the next general meeting to be held and attend.

PROBE TWO-WAY RADIO

SERVICE FOR TOURISTS
The possibility of operating a two way radio service to provide motorists with information on road conditions and services has created interest among officials of the Alberta Motor Association.

Such a system is being developed by the American Automobile Association and is being extended to a limited extent it is understood.

Recently, directors of the Edmonton branch, A.M.A. named a special committee to look into the possibility of a two-way radio set-up. It was suggested that such a system might be linked with other sections of the province including the north country.

Numerous inquiries are being received at A.M.A. offices concerning road conditions and accommodations in southern Alberta, a teletype service between Calgary, Banff and other offices is giving excellent results. A.M.A. officials report a heavy volume of inquiries and these are being handled promptly by the staffs at Calgary, Lethbridge and Edmonton branches. In all probability, Alberta will see a record tourist movement this year, with the greatest turnover exceeding the 1948 margin of $17,500,000 by a good margin.

Must Face Competition

In the last few weeks there have been many requests to the Canadian Tariff Board for increased protection against various imports. Fruit growers of the Niagara district have complained that they can't meet the competition of Maraschino cherries from Italy. Cheap gloves and mitts from Japan, the Board has been warned, imperil the very existence of the home industry. Some Canadian textile and confectionery manufacturers claim that British produce is being "dumped" on the Canadian market.

Undoubtedly in certain cases there is justification for these complaints. If the home industry is to survive and continue to provide employment, competition from abroad must be stopped. But, cuts out the Financial Post, the authorities must make sure that this competition is really unfair. If it is simply a case of the domestic cost of production being unreasonably high, then that is another story entirely.

If heed is paid to every claim, soon there will be no foreign goods moving in this direction and no Canadian goods moving in the other. We can't begin to hold our present reduced export trade, let alone increase it to more prosperous proportions unless we are willing to accept imports in return. That is a lesson it was hoped that Canadians and Americans had learned during the last two decades, but recent revivals of the old cry of "cheap foreign labor" has aroused doubt.

Mrs. Jones: "Oh, yes, doctor only I hadn't got a shilling so I covered 12 pennies."
